Some minor comments to take into account before its publication: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> -Change title, since it not reflected the real focus of the study; think in o one more interesting and not only purely descriptive (take into account in the international audience of the journal). -Add more interesting questions and/or hypothesis. -In M&M section please add information about reference material if used. - Check please for normality and homogeneity of data prior to apply PCA. - The conclusions and main results (findings) of the study should be in a more synthetic form, in the present form they are too speculative and seems to be more final considerations than purely conclusions of your study.
