

Editorial Comments on Revised ms AJOB 34533 v3:

The authors have made changes in accordance to the Correctionables pointed out in the earlier version of the submitted manuscript. However, there still exists a general lack of structure. Many headings appear in one page while the contents under them appear to be on the next page. Subheadings have become juxtaposed with tables in some places while the authors have tried to rearrange the manuscript. They are asked to rectify these shortcomings at once. The tables could be designed in a more scientific manner than to just tabulate the raw data as they appear presently. Apart from these minor issues the manuscript has no major faults and once the minor modifications needed.

Verdict: Final minor revision needed.

Authors' feedback:

- I have rectified the headings and subheadings of the manuscript as requested by the editor. Also, I have rearranged the manuscript.

- I have modified the structure of the tables in order to be designed in a more scientific manner.
