Editor's Comment:

The plagiarism check reveals a 36% similarity with the author's own paper. It's actually quite high. I strongly recommended that the author reword the entire content including the title. If not, the paper will have to be rejected based on the lack of originality.

Author's Feedback:

We tried to rephrase the title of the work and the text of the article. We do not have the anti-plagiarism system that you use. If we succeeded enough, we ask you to point out the problematic places for further paraphrasing.
