I checked the revised manuscript and found the revisions have addressed the reviewers' comments. However, I found a few typos and grammatical errors. For example in the abstract "A large number of candidate's hidden units is considered by initializing ......." Therefore, I suggest the authors to give the entire manuscript a thorough proof reading before publishing the article.

Editor’s Details:
Qiang Duan, Information Sciences & Technology Department, The Pennsylvania State University, USA

Note: Modification was done in this document ONLY to hide the email id.