Editor’s Comment:

I have read the manuscript and the reviewer reports and the corresponding feedback. Two of the reviewers have recommended to accept the manuscript. The third reviewer has changed his opinion from major corrections to “reject”. Therefore, my focus was turned to this last reviewer’s (Nil) comments and the feedback from the authors. I still think that the authors need to address some of these remarks e.g. by giving the AOAC method number used for the physicochemical evaluation or by substantiating the introduction and discussion by adding some relevant and recent citations.

Finally, small corrections are also needed from the other two reviewers (Kar/Pat; Feedback V2)

So my final decision is to accept, condition to the still pending corrections needed.

I will review the revised manuscript myself.
