Editor's Comment:

Although the paper sent to the assessment was improved according to reviewers’ suggestions, it has some faults. Author should check the text in order to eliminate the extra spaces between words. These can be found on every page. In the references, the journal names are included in the full version and in the abbreviated form. According to the journal editorial policy, the abbreviation of journal names should be used. These shortcomings do not diminish the value of work but should be eliminated for its better readability.

Editor’s Details:

Dr. Andrzej Kowalski
Department of Biochemistry and Genetics, Institute of Biology, Jan Kochanowski University, Kielce, Poland